Pittsburgh Gazette

FRIDAY MORNING, FEB. 18, 1820.

The following is a copy of the Articles of Association of the Allegheny County Society for the promotion of Agriculture and Domestic Manufactures.

We whose names are hereuto subscribed, altho' convinced that there is no nation on the face of the globe, who have more reason to be thankful to the Supreme Ruler of the Universe, than the people of these United States, for the many blessings which he has so graciously and bountifully bestowed on them; yet we cannot but view with the most extreme regret, the distressing embarrassments, and almost total ruin, under which the whole mass of the community labour at the present period. In searching for the cause of this extensive pecuniary distress, we are irresistably led to the conclusion that it proceeds in a great measure from the want of that paternal protection which the general government should have extended to foster and support our own Manufactures, particularly at a time when, by a suicidal policy, the creation of so many Banking Institutions, afforded the greatest facilities to speculators, by enabling them to introduce from foreign countries, commodities of foreign fabrication, neither required by our necessities, nor wanted for our comfort; and to such a ruinous extent as greatly to overbalance all our means of repayment; thereby prostrating that numerous and respectable class of our fellow citizens, whose praise-worthy & indefatigable exertions during the late war rendered their country truly independent, and merited a better reward.

From the fate of the many able and eloquent petitions, which have been presented to Congress, on this subject, we almost despair of any effectual remedy being afforded by them at the present crisis, to alleviate the burthens under which that class of our population now labour, WE therefore wish to embrace the only alternative left to our choice to diminish the general distress, by forming an Association for the promotion of domestic economy and agriculture, and fostering by all the means in our power, the manufactures of our own country:

For which purpose we agree to associate ourselves together, and have adopted the following articles for our government, viz.

ARTICLES OF ASSOCIATION.

1st. The name of the association shall be 'The Allegheny County Society for promoting Agriculture and Domestic Manufactures."

2d. The Officers of the Society shall be a President, two Vice Presidents, a Secretary, a Treasurer, and twenty four Managers, who shall be elected annually by ballot, on the last Tuesday in October in each year, any five of whom shall be a quorum and constitute a Board for the transaction of such business as may come before them. They shall have full power,

1st. To dispose of the funds of the society.

2d Convene general meetings of the society.

3d. To fill all vacancies in their own Body.

4th. To make such bye laws as they may deem necessary for their own government, and that of the Society.

5th To do all such acts as may be necessary to promote the best interests of the Institution. It shall be their duty.

1st. To agree upon, procure, award and distribute such premiums as they may think proper for those who may excel in the particular branches of Agriculture and Manufactures, for which premiums may previously have been promulgated.

2d. To convene and regulate annual meetings.

3d. To appoint three members not being officers, to superintend the annual election.

4th. To correspond with other similar societies for the purpose of collecting and disseminating such information as may be useful in promoting the objects of the society.

th. To publish an annual account of their proceedings and the state of their funds.

ART. 3. Every person who may subscribe to these articles, and pay into the hands of the Treasurer any sum not less than one dollar, shall be a member and considered as such until he shall decline in writing to the Board of Managers; he shall also continue to pay one dollar annually during the time of his being a member; which money together with any donations which may be made, shall constitute the funds of the society, & no person shall have the privilege of voting for officers of the society, until he shall have first paid his annual contribution.

ART. 4th. Every person becoming a member of the society, will stand pledged to support the objects of the Association; and will give a decided preference in purchasing articles for his own and the cousumption of his family, to those which are of the growth and manufacture of the United States.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman attached to the Yellow Stone Expedition, to his friend in this place dated

FORT MISSOURI, Council Bluffs, Nov. 16.

DEAR ——.

I am at last favored with an opportunity of giving you a short description of the vast tract of wilderness country, by which I am surrounded. This Fort is situated 800 miles above the mouth of the Missouri, and one mile above the place called the Council Bluffs, the place where Lewis and Clark held a general council with all the Indians, in this quarter of the world. It is a bluff of about 100 feet higher than the surface of the water, and perpendicular on the side adjoining the river, which flows at its base, but it gradually descends to the distance of three fourths of a mile on all other sides. The country is a prairie for the distance of several hundred miles back, but timbered above and below, which renders it the most beautiful spot I have ever seen for a fort; the scarcity of wood only prevents it from being the first place in the western country. The fort that is now built is only temporary—but next year there will be one built of brick on the top of the bluff.

This country is entirely prairie, except a small grove on the bank of the river, but after you get two or three miles back it is all prairie until you arrive near some water course. I have travelled for 20 or 30 miles without finding a bush of wood or drop of water. I have visited several nations of Indians in this neighborhood, and remained with them some time. I will mention some of their most singular manners, from which you can draw some idea of their character When I arrived at the Maha village it was about 3 o'clock in the evening; I was carried to the Chief's lodge, where they soon prepared something to eat, which I was very glad to see, for I had not eat for two days—but when it was set before me, it proved to be the flesh of a dog, at the first sight of which I was disgusted, but seeing the interpreter eat of it, I was induced to taste it, and found it so palatable that I eat a hearty supper. During this evening I eat seventeen times, and the next day twenty-three; for every Chief gives you a feast and nothing will be considered so great an affront as to refuse.

We have arrived at a very cold climate—it is in the 42d deg. of north lat. and the immense body of open land makes it three degrees colder. I expect to ascend the Missouri next year several hundred miles higher, but I do not think the troops will ever reach the Yellow Stone. All the Indians have become quite submissive and friendly.

St. Louis Gaz.

A letter from New Orleans, dated January 14, says:—"Within a week past, upwards of 4000 barrels of flour have arrived here from the northern states, and it is now dull at $7 to 8, and if the river should rise it must fall still lower. Whiskey, there is none in market.

"Our sugar crop is 30,000 hhds. the largest ever raised in this country, and quality very fine. Sugar 9 a 10 cents, coffee 29 a 31 cents. Bills on the eastern cities 2 to 3 discount.

The French government ship La Normandie, arrived below at New York, is dispatched for the purpose, we understand, of taking to France the unfortunate refugees from St. Domingo, now assembled in that city from all parts of the U. States.

HYDROPHOBIA.

The New York Evening Post of Monday last mentions, that there is now in that city an extreme case of this disease: and that a sufficient quantity of the scullcap cannot be found. The Editor urgently requests that any person, who may possess even a small quantity of the article, may send it to Dr Robson, No. 19, or Dr. Stilwell, No. 16, Roosevelt street.

We regret to hear, and from unquestionable authority, that the legislature of Maryland refused liberty to one of their members, to bring in a bill, the object of which was to allow our Jewish brethren, a free participation in all our civil rights. On their heads be the blame and the scandal of such intolerance. They were allowed an opportunity to rescue Maryland from a reproach, which it was thought our legislators would rejoice to wipe away. But let our Jewish brethren be comforted—this reproach will not remain much longer in the statute book—the morning star begins to sparkle already, and it is but the harbinger of a glorious day—the fogs and mists of prejudice now dispersing before the rising light—the day of complete emancipation is near. Mr. Kennedy, the mover of the bill, will in that day be remembered with gratitude.

Balt. Morn. Chron.

FROM THE MALTA GOVERNMENT GAZETTE.

MUNGO PARK.

In one of our former numbers an article was inserted, (which had been originally published in the Liverpool Mercury) inquiring into the probability of the celebrated Mungo Park being still in existence. Some allusions was therein made to information stated to have been obtained from a conversation with Mr. Nathaniel Pearce, at Juda, on the Red Sea. Mr. Pearce now at Cairo, perceiving that some inacuracies had crept into the statement, as already published, has given an account of the conversation alluded to, which may be considered as authentic. The following is an extract from Mr. Pearce's letter on the subject: "I am obliged to trouble you with a story, an account of which I read in the Malta Gazette. It appears that captain Fairwell wrote to his friend in Liverpool in which letter he said that he found me at Judda; that I told him Mungo Park was still alive, and that I was on my road to Tombuctoo to join him, &c. I will give some small account of our discourse at table, on board his ship. We talked a great deal about Coffin, who had been with me the last nine years in the country (Abyssinia.) He asked if there were any other white men there. I told him 'one Greek and an Armenian.' 'Did you never hear of Mungo Park? Is it possible he can be alive? said he. I answered, in all probability he may: a friend of mine, who trades from Gondar to Tombuctoo, by way of Sanna, told me several times, that within six years he had been four times at Tombuctoo, and had always seen a white man there, who was detained by the natives as a person able to write charms; perhaps it may be Mungo Park; it certainly can be no other English traveller. Nothing else passed on the subject." Mr. Pearce is now preparing, under Mr. Salt's eye, an account of his long residence in Abyssinia, which cannot fail, when published, to prove highly interesting.

Foreign.

Letters from Gibraltar, to the Editor of the Norfolk Herald, down to the 25th of November, state, that another change has taken place in the Spanish Ministry, and others were expected.

Don Lozanno Torres, prime minister, was dismissed from office on the first day of that month: and his place filled by Mozo Rosales, Marquis of Mota Florida.

The letter also state, that an official overture has been made by the Portuguese government to the king of Spain—"That if the king will consent to establish his brother Charles in Buenos Ayres, to form (of course) an adequate kingdom, that they will not only renounce their claims to Olivenca and the one million four hundred thousand dollars due them, but will assist all their forces towards his establishment." The kings answer, it is said, was not yet known.

A postscript to the latest letter says—The Duke of Alagon is at last to be separated from his Majesty's person—it is said he is to be sent as Captain General to the Province of Arragon, vice, Marquis of Lazan, removed

"A report prevails in Madrid that the people of Cuba have made overtures for independence to their master, with an offer of a treaty very advantageous to him, and one hundred millions of dollars payable in instalments—20 millions down.—You will readily believe to be a report—for at such a price the king's confessor would not allow him to hesitate at any sacrifice."

LONDON, Dec. 30.

We have inserted from the American papers some documents relating to the 'state of domestic slavery' in the North American republic, which are equally interesting to the sound statesman and to the christian moralist. The existence of slavery in a free republic may plead the example of antiquity, but it was the Heathens who furnished that example; and among them it may have been justified by its efficacy in restraining the savage practices of ancient warfare, when the captive, if not enslaved, would necessarily have been butchered. But in a community which boasts at once of being free and Christian, "the most moral and enlightened' people on earth, as they call themselves, how the toleration of domestic slavery can be palliated—how it can be explained—we must leave to those who insist on the continuance of that blessing as one of their most valued rights and enjoyments. The negro slavery of the United States, and of the West Indies, is the disgrace of the Christian world. The slave population of North America however, is confined to certain states, and we do not apprehend that its acknowledged influence on the morals, happiness and prosperity of their white inhabitants, has been such as to make the Congress very anxious to extend the guilty privilege of slave-ownership beyond its actual limits. The principal document which we have extracted from the American journals, is a sketch of the argument addressed by Mr. Rufus King to the Senate of the United States, on what is called the Missouri Bill, tending to show that Congress, if it cannot extinguish the evil in the old states, who stipulated originally for its continuance as the price of their accession to the Union, can at least restrain all future states, who may be admitted by the authority of the Supreme legislature to a partnership in the national soveriegnty, from indulging in this odious & criminal traffic. We are happy to find that a meeting, in furtherance of the same views, has been held in the city of Philadelphia, and attended by persons of the highest respectability, who declared that they were bound by the dictates of reason, benevolence and religion, to oppose with their best efforts the extension of slavery to states hereafter to be admitted into the Union. A Committee of Correspondence, consisting of 25, was then appointed, to circulate the proceedings of the meeting, and to support by fit publications the opinions of its members. If not wholly eradicated, therefore, the moral pestilence, there is room for hoping, will be speedily and severely checked.

The Shipley arrived at Portsmouth, from Botany Bay, brought home two women, who according to the report sent home with them by the Governor, are of too infamous character to continue longer residents in the Colony!

Accounts from Naples state, that Vesuvius is now in full eruption. The direction of the lava, is fortunately such as to allay all apprehensions for the neighboring country.

DIED lately in England, Elizabeth Ralph. She was 21 years of age, and but two feet ten inches high, and well proportioned. She was never known to laugh or cry, and never exceeded twenty pounds in weight.

Paine's Bones.—It has been ascertained that Cobbett and his Companions made a sad mistake in digging up Paines bones—It being night, it seems, they mistook the grave of the Infidel, and raised the bones of an old negro. It is hoped some of his friends will complete the job, otherwise the column intended for Paine may disgrace the relics of a harmless son of Africa.

Groaning, Crying, &c—A French Surgeon has published a long dessertion on the beneficial influence of groaning and crying on the nervous system. He contends that groaning and crying, are the two grand operations by which nature allays anguish; and that he has uniformly observed that those patients who give way to their natural feelings, more speedily recover from accidents and operations, than those, who suppose that it is unworthy a man to betray such symptoms of cowardice as either to groan or to cry. He is always pleased by the crying and violent roaring of a patient, during the time he is undergoing a surgical operation, because he is satisfied that he will thereby so sooth his nervous system, as to prevent fever and ensure a favourable termination. From the benefit which patients derive from crying or groaning, he supposes that by these processes of nature, the superabundant nervous power is exhausted, and that the nervous system is in consequence rendered calm and even the circulation of the blood diminished. He relates a case of a man who, by means of crying and bawling, reduced his pulse from 120 to 60 in the course of two hours. That some patients often have a great satisfaction in groaning and that hysterical patients often experience great relief from crying, are facts which no person will deny.

As to the restless hypochondriacal subjects, or those who are never happy but when they are under some course of medical or dietetic treatment, the French surgeon assures them that they cannot do better than groan all night and cry all day. By following this rule and observing an abstemious diet, a person will effectually escape disease, and may prolong life to an incredible extent.

Sir George Staunton used to relate a characteristic anecdote of this emperor He enquired of Sir George Staunton the manner in which physicians are paid in England. When his majesty was made to comprehend what the practice was, he exclaimed, 'Can any man in England afford to be ill? Now I will inform you, (said he) how I deal with my physicians. I have four, to whom the care of my health is committed, and a weekly salary is allowed to them; but the moment I am ill, that salary is stopped till I am well again. I need not inform you that my illness never is of any long continuance.'

PITTSBURGH.

Friday, Feb. 18, 1820.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman in the city of Washington, to his friend in this city, dated February 9th, 1820.

I have had in view to write to you for some time past, but Congress have done so little business that I had nothing to communicate. We have now reached a period at which most experienced politicians hesitate how to act. Every one is ready to confess, that there has been errors in our policy; but few can agree what those errors are. The subject of manufactures is one that will occupy much attention, but what the result may be is quite uncertain. There is an almost unanimous opposition among the southern members, to any further protection being given by law to the manufacturing interest. The situation of the commercial world is such that the southern states, owing to their being engaged in culture of cotton and tobacco, find a ready sale for these articles, and having no manufactures themselves, they feel no inducement or interest in encouraging the manufacturing system. There is another reason which operates with them, they have none of that class of society whose interests require that domestic industry should be protected. Their population consists of master and slaves; the latter have no acknowledged rights, & their labour is altogether devoted to the comfort of the mater, except a bare and scanty subsistence for themselves, and so long as the master can draw these comforts from the labour of the slave, he is careless about any system of policy which might be calculated for the benefit of the labouring classes of the other parts of the Union. The old notion of buying the article where it can be procured the cheapest, is adhered to by them tenaciously. They are for that policy which favors the consuming class, without any regard to the interests of the producing class, which with them are slaves, and having no rights, are therefore not brought into the account. This is in direct hostility with the interests of the people in the non-slaveholding states. There every man, be his situation what it may, is equally interested, and as their avocations are various, it requires a different kind of legislation to secure the rights of the whole, than would be necessary if all were engaged in one pursuit, and were divided into master and slaves. These are some of the difficulties to be encountered in the passage of any law for the encouragement of domestic manufactures. There are others, arising out of the opposition of the mercantile interest, but these are comparative small. The present congress is much perplexed in attempting to exclude slavery from the new states to be formed west of the Mississippi. This question has been under debate three weeks, and is perhaps not half done. It excites uncommon warmth among the southern members. They even go so far as to threaten us with a dissolution of the Union, if we persevere in our attempts to deprive the people of Missouri of the liberty of keeping slaves, and almost in the same breath charged the advocates of restriction of slavery, with being the dupes of aspiring demagogues, Hartford conventionists, &c. These things I hope will not be of much avail in influencing the members from the non-slave holding states. They see plainly the evils produced by slavery in its present current, and they cannot but see, that if it is permitted to extend over the vast region west of the Mississippi, the rights and interests of the producing classes of the Union, must be sacrificed to promote the views of the slave holder, who reveling in luxury drawn from the toil of his poor degraded slave, has the hardihood to assert that those who labour, or as he is pleased to term it, who perform the menial offices in all countries, are slaves equal with his negroes.

I am sorry to observe, that there are some persons who prefer a temporising course in this business, and think it unwise to meddle with the question at all, lest it may excite the opposition of the slaveholding states, and thereby defeat objects of interest to other sections of the union, but for myself I have no idea of asking as a matter of courtesey, what we ought to claim as matter of right. I cannot consent that a majority of this nation shall decline making such regulations as the national interest require, for fear of exciting the opposition of that quarter of the country which for some time past, has given law to these states. Shall Pennsylvania, New-York and Ohio three of the most important states in the Union, shrink from the assertion of their principles in regard to the Missouri question, for fear of encountering the opposition of Virginia and the southern states, on the questions of protecting domestic manufactures. I hope not. The time has arrived, when, if we expect our interests attended to, we must assert our rights, and not timidly abandon a great principle of national policy, in hopes of flattering the aid of any section in procuring a particular object. This would be humiliating; it would seem like continually travelling in the wake of southern influence. Indeed, the politicians from the south have so long guided the measures of this government, that a refusal on the part of any state to co-operate with them in every thing, even to the perpetration of slavery is denounced as heresy, and charged as a design to overturn the present administration. I think it is time now to enquire into the interests of the present measure, and endeavor to divest the word administrations of the magic chain which has heretofore attached to it. The administration as far as its acts are calculated to promote the interest of the nation at large, is entitled to respect, but must not be used as a citadel from which to annoy the rights of the majority of the people."

To the Citizens of Pittsburgh.

The managers of the Female Benevolent Society of this city, having found among the numerous indigent families which commanded their attention, that many of the sick and infirm, and young children, were suffering for want of some wholesome and nutritious food, have unanimously agreed to engage a fit person, of respectable character, for the purpose of making soup to be distributed among them daily, until the latter end of April. As the funds of the society are low, the managers respectfully solicit the benevolent and charitable citizens of Pittsburgh, to assist them with such donations of money, meat, vegetables, flour, &c. as their individual means and charity may dictate. They would particularly request housekeepers to be so kind as to save all sorts of cold victuals which they may be able to spare, and they would be much obliged to the bakers of the city if they would appropriate to their use such stale bread as may remain on hand, unfit for sale. All donations of meat, vegetables, cold victuals, &c. will be gratefully received at Mrs. POWER's, where the soup is made, in Fifth street opposite to the dwelling house of Mr. Alexander M'Clurg. Donations of money may be left with Mrs. DAVIS, treasurer of the society, in Fourth street near the corner of Hay-scales alley.

Congress have of late been afflicted by that nervous affliction, called St. Vitus's dance of economy; it disorders and retards every movement of the political body. Self-defence is not worth paying for, or in other words, life and property are too cheap and too worthless, to be protected by a government made for the protection of both. If our legislators study retrenchment in the expenditure of the national funds, let them set the first example themselves, and send their long winded orators home—let them seriously ask themselves this question, whether their metaphors are worth eight dollars a day upon an average? But metaphors are not the only things which the nation must pay for; it is called upon to pay for the panegyrics, which the members of Congress pronounce upon themselves. On this occasion, there is always a glow of eloquence, a redundancy of ideas, a brilliancy of fancy, worthy of Cicero in his proudest day. Indeed it is a subject of high felicitation, that we are represented by men on the floor of Congress, who so fully understand their own worth. They can speak for hours upon this subject, and here their eloquence seems unexhausted & inexhaustible. If they would but exert the same eloquence on the subject matter of legislation, as they do in self-panegyrics; no legislative body in the world, would appear to greater advantage than the Congress of America. Beautiful as this eloquance is, we hope that our navy is not to be sacrificed to self-penagyrics. Bal. Morn. Chron.

From the N. Y. Commercial Advertiser, Feb. 7.

The African Expedition consisting of the U. S. ship Cyane, and the ship Elizabeth, sailed from this port yesterday afternoon. The Elizabeth, chartered by government, proceeds to the western coast of Africa, for the purpose of carrying into effect the act of 1819, agreeably to the views of the President, as expressed in his late Message on that subject.—She carries out the United States agents, and artisans, mechanics and labourers, for the purpose of negotiating with the local authorities of the country, for permission to land and provide for recaptured or liberated Africans; and to build houses and cultivate land for their use. About 50 adults, people of colour, go out as mechanics and labourers, provided with utensils, tools, implements, and stores. Those whose services are valuable on account of their trades, and who could not be prevailed on otherwise to go, are permitted to take their families with them.

This expedition we are informed, has no direct or necessary connection, with Colonization. The Colonization Society, it is understood, will soon send a vessel out from the south with colonists.—The United States takes no part in the affair of Colonization. But if its operations of liberated Africans are carried on in the same place where the Colonization Society conducts its colony, a mutual help will necessarily be felt by each others efforts. These two communities ought not to be connected in the public mind, as they are not in fact; yet they may be viewed as two individuals carrying on, each its benevolent purpose, upon the same theatre of action.

The Cyane proceeds on a cruise on the Western Coast of Africa, against the slave traders.

Blakeley, (Alabama) Jan. 20.

Military Movements.—Captain Dade's company of regulars, are now encamped in the rear of this town, and are waiting for orders. 500 more men of the 4th Regiment are expected here in a few days. Their destination is yet unknown, but we guess they will ere long move towards the rising sun. This step seems to indicate the views of our Government in regard to Florida.

HORRIBLE EXECUTION!

Perpetrated among a People who call themselves Christians, and who boast of being the most free, the most enlightened, and the most humane People on earth.

AUGUSTA (Georgia,) Feb. 1.

On Friday last, two negro men, named SAM and EPHRAIM, were executed in conformity to their sentence, for the murder of their master, Mr. Thomas Hancock, of Edgefield district, S. C. Sam was burnt and Ephraim hung, and his head severed from his body and publicly exposed.—The circumstances attending the crime for which these miserable beings have suffered, were of a nature so aggravated, as imperiously demanded the terrible punishment which has been inflicted upon them.

The burning of malefactors is a punishment only resorted to, when absolute necessity demands a signal example. It must be a horrid and appalling sight to see a human being consigned to the flames. Let even fancy picture the scene—the pile—the stake—the victim—and the mind sickens, and sinks under the oppression of its own feelings—what then must be the dread reality? From some of the spectators we learn, that it was a scene which transfixed in breathless horror almost every one who witnessed it. As the flames approached him, the piercing shrieks of the unfortunate victim struck upon the heart with a fearful, painful vibration—but when the devouring element seized upon his body, all was hushed—yet the cry of agony still thrilled in the ear, and an involuntary and sympathetic shudder ran through the crowd.

NEW-YORK, Feb. 3.

COM. M'DONOUGH

We are highly gratified in learning from Gibralter, that on the late suspension of Commodore M'Donough, his crew, with a feeling that is both honorable to them and to their commander, immediately opened a subscription to raise money to purchase for him a sword, the sum of $ 1200 was immediately subscaibed, and the money remitted to London with orders to make the same, accompanied by the following mottoes—Upon the scabbard, "The gift of the crew of the Gurriere Frigate to their Commander Captain M'Donough, July 8, 1819." On the blade, "No Impressment" On the outside of the blade, "Sailors Rights."

On hearing of this transaction, the Commodore was much affected, and feelingly expressed his regret that he could not accept the intended present; but his crew insisted on his compliance, and with increased attachment for the unassuming character of the man who had led many of them to victory, persisted, & ordered the sword to be completed with all due expedition.

FROM SPAIN.

The advices from Cadiz are to the 1st December. The expeditions continued in preparation—One to carry 5000 troops to Morillo, and the other to take from 10 to 15,000 troops against Buenos Ayres. The naval commissioners were chartering vessels to convey them.

FOREIGN NEWS.

[Per the Albion, at N. York from Liverpool.]

The New-York papers of yesterday morning and evening, contain the following additional articles.

The British Parliament, which according to our advices was to have adjourned on the 25th of December, was still in session on the 29th. The Traveller, on that day, says—"to-morrow the House of Commons will again meet to receive notice of what has passed in the Upper House since Friday. It is expected that a commission will afterwards sit for giving the Royal Assent, and that both Houses of Parliament will then adjourn to the middle of February next.

Letters from St. Petersburg, of the 20th of November, mention, that the morals of the people would be injured by their reading the account of Carlile's trial, had given directions to the Police to prevent the introduction of all the English newspapers containing it.

Stockholm, Dec. 14.—A very important question has been discussed by the Royal Board of Trade. The government of North America and of the Netherlands have both made application to our government for the addition of what is called the "Bill of Production." This bill is an ordinance of nearly 100 years standing, prohibiting the subjects of foreign states from importing into the Swedish ports any goods except such as may be considered as productions of their own country. The Board of Trade, in the report which it has drawn up according to the orders given to it, declares that the maintenance of this ordinance is of the utmost importance to the kingdom, and that it is the palladium of the Swedish commerce. On the other hand, baron Edelesantz, president of the same board declares himself individually to be of a directly contrary opinion. He sees in this ordinance an injurious obstacle to a free and natural commercial intercourse, and remarks, that if by this constraint some advantages accrue to ship owners, which he, however, does not concede, yet this advantage must not be founded upon a tax laid on all the commercial part of the nation. This memorial of baron Edelesantz is distinguished as well by the solidity of the reasoning as by the pure style which is peculiar to him.—This affair is now laid before his majesty for his opinion and decision.

London, Dec. 28.

Mr. Stokoe, the surgeon appointed to attend on Bonaparte, has been tried by a Court Martial, at St. Henela, on ten charges, for disobedience of orders; he was found guilty of all the charges, and sentenced to be dismissed the service, but in consequence of his former good character, the court recommended him to the Admiralty to be placed on half-pay.

LONGITUDE. &c.

La Baronne De Paris Boisrowvray, has arrived in England from Paris charged with a commission to present to the Admiralty Board, a theory of the compass, which gives the longitude and latitude of the globe, for the discovery of which the whole world has so long looked. The husband of this lady has sent his theory to the Academy at Paris. His wife's mission to London was to prevent delay, as well as to have a trust-worthy agent.

The king of Sweden, according to advices from Berlin, has ordered 100 medals to be struck in gold, silver and copper, in honor of a hundred individuals of all nations, who have contributed to the civilization and improvement of mankind. Who are to compose this centessimal group of universal benefactors is not even hinted at.

Naples Nov. 15.—There has lately arrived here a quaker, Stephen Grellet, of English extraction, borne in America and educated in France. He has been travelling for several years for the purpose of visiting the penitentiaries and prisons, and proposes, after the example of the illustrious Howard some new ideas and salutary ameliorations in respect to them. He has been received with attention by the emperor of Russia.

Accounts from Paris state, that Count de Cazes has been created a duke. They also mention, that Savary, Duke de Rovigo, surrendered himself a prisoner on the 19th inst to to try the question of the sentence of death par contumace, passed, upon him in 1816. He is confined L'Abbaye. His trial will come on before the Second Council of War forthwith.

A letter from Liverpool of Dec. 31, remarks, "Business in general continues very much depressed, with little hopes of an immediate revival. The country still continues in a general state of ferment, and the dissatisfied are kept in awe by the great number of troops distributed in every town of the kingdom. Lord Russell has given notice to bring into parliament a bill of reform which has been sanctioned by ministers; but what will be the result, no one knows. It is evident something must be done—and soon too."

PUBLIC DEFAULTERS.—The treasurer of the state of Virginia has resigned his office, acknowledging, "that it had become his misfortune, during the late period of unparalleled commercial distress and pecuniary difficulty, to become involved by individuals then high in the confidence of the public, but who have since fallen a sacrifice to the unusual state of the times; in consequence of which, a deficit in the Public Treasury has occurred which he is unable to supply." He adds, "that if the sacrifice of his paternal estate, with that which he has acquired by a life of industry, can be any expiation for his fault, he will view the wreck with perfect composure." The deficit is said to be upwards of $100,000.

It is also stated, that a suit has been ordered against the Register of the Land office for 10,000 dollars, being the amount of his bond, for malfeasance in office,

And a Clerk in the Farmers' Bank at Petersburg has gone off with 22,000 dollars belonging to that institution. His bond, with good sureties, for 10,000 dollars, will lessen the deficiency by so much.

New London, (Conn.) Feb. 2.

There is now in the possession of Mr. Daniel Lee of North Lyme, a pork barrel, 112 years old. There are 3 hoops upon it set by the famous Bill Hobbs, of New London 43 years ago. Said barrel is sound and tight, and what is singular, it has rarely if ever been empty.

DIED in Washington, Penn. on the 13th inst. Mrs. JANE ADDISON, relic of the late judge Addison of this place.

This most valuable & exemplary temale whose loss will affect society at large almost as much as her own family, came to her death by the overturning of a sleigh in a very dangerous place on the Washington Road. She received a wound in her head, which at first was not considered as dangerous, and she continued her journey home; it soon however, assumed a fatal character, and carried her off in the 57th year of her age. Mrs. Addison was a most active and benevolent female and the vacancy occasioned by her death will not easily be filled. She has left a large family to deplore her untimely loss.

MR. GARNER,

THE gentlemen appointed at the town meeting as managers for the purpose of removing the obstructions in the Ohio river, are requested to meet at the house of James B. TOWN OF AMERICA.

THE undersigned, owner of a large number o squares, half squares, and lots in the above own, and of about five hundred acres of land adjoining to it, proposes to sell to actual settlers, any number of lots, not exceeding one hundred; and several out lots of twenty acres each, on terms highly calculated to promote the interest of the purchasers. He is also authorized to sell on liberal terms and in small tracts, seven thousand acres of excellent land, lying about the Town and in its immediate neighborhood.

This town is situated in the fork of the Ohio and Mississippi, on the bank of the former, and on the first piece of high ground above their junction.

No person of any reflection has ever looked upon a map of North America without being struck with the mighty confluence of water which is exhibited at the junction of the Ohio and Mississippi: and the natural sentiment that a great city must grow up at that point has only been checked by the apprehension that the place was annually inundated. The apprehension was incorrect. The town scite and the back country are free from inundation, and both are now settled and are constantly increasing in population. The town has been selected for the seat of Justice for the county of Alexander in which it is situated, and both the county and circuit courts are, and will be held there. The neighboring country is well settled, not by a detached population, but by connected settlements spreading into the interior of the state of Illinois.

The mind is therefore free to expatiate upon the advantages of this situation, and the undersigned can leave it to any man of sense and candor to say whether any point upon our continent has ever presented a fairer prospect of a greater inland commercial city?

Situated on the first high ground above the confluence of the noblest streams in America—at a point from which large steam boats can at all times descend to New Orleans—with a rich back country to support it—and a numerous population now covering the adjacent country, and it is difficult to assign a reason why this town should not in a few years rank with the first in America.

Besides its water communications it may reasonably count upon the advantage of seeing pass through it the great road which will be required to facilitate the intercourse between the Upper and the Lower Mississippi. Authentic information authorizes the assertion that the country south of the Ohio is entirely practicable for a road, which can be opened across the west ends of Kentucky and Tennessee through the late Chickasaw purchase and lead to New Orleans over a direct route parallel to the course of the Mississippi.

The undersigned will be upon the spot to sell to actual settlers during the balance of the winter and spring months. He prefers to sell upon the spot, when purchasers can see with their own eyes the advantages of the situation, and therefore will be present at a time when the revival of commerce upon the river and the passing of steam boats will make it convenient for all those to visit the place and examine it for themselves who may wish to become interested in it.

He is also authorised to say that the proprietors, or a part of them, will sell at auction, on the ground, on the third Monday in April next, being the first day of the Circuit court, ONE HUNDRED LOTS; one third of the purchase money to be paid in hand, one third in six, and one in twelve months, to raise a fund for improving the place, to which the whole proceeds of the 100 lots will be applied.

To Emigrants.

HAVING associated myself with a considerable company for the purpose of settling a new place in the state of Illinois, opposite the mouth of White river and Patoka, at the foot of the Grand Rapids of the Wabash, (MOUNT CARMEL) with an intention to remove to it, as soon as practicable, I have contracted for the making and burning of 150,000 brick, which I wish put up next season into buildings, and the Bricklayer's and carpenter's work undertaken conjointly, the plaistering and whitewashing included. Lands adjoining the Town, and town lots, at cash prices, and cash, a proportion of each will be given in payment when the work is completed.

Having entered lands for the accommodation of settlers favourable to the views of the settlement, a considerable body adjoining the settlement and town lands, divided into lots of from 10 to 100 and 160 acres each may be had at the Congress prices, with the exception of the interest on the money paid, and a small advance to defray expences, &c.

I wish to employ some persons to enclose or clear lands for me, for which I will pay in lands at cash prices. I have a body of open and timbered lands, that I would lease from 5 to 10 years on advantageous terms to emigrants unable to purchase. A convenient farm to let, by an early application to the Agent may be had.

A canal for boats and water works around the Grand Rapids of the Wabash, a company is forming to commence opening next season, that will afford employment for labourers, and no inconsiderable inducement to capitalist to invest their funds in the establishment. Considerable encouragement and aid have already been tendered for that purpose by emigrants from the Eastern States. The river is open for navigation from this place to New-Orleans all the year.

Application may be made to WM. BEAUCHAMP, the Agent for the establishment, residing in Mount Carmel, or to the subscriber, residing at present in New-port. None need apply but moral characters.
